Airlay is proudly Australian family-owned and operated.

Everything we do at Airlay is focused on delivering the latest designs, current trends, vibrant colours, and environmentally conscious, practical product solutions. When launching new products, we always keep interior designers and architects front of mind, actively consulting with leading designers to gain valuable industry insight and feedback.

Our products are sourced from certified, eco-friendly factories, and are distributed from our Melbourne warehouse.

Our success is built on strong marketing expertise, proven sales and negotiation skills, in-depth knowledge of the local market, and meticulous attention to detail. We are progressive, current, and dynamic, more personal and more focused. And we achieve what we set out to achieve.
